President of the Philippines Benigno S. Aquino III presented the Mabini Presidential Special Award to Resources For The Blind's former Executive Director Randy Weisser during the 2015 Apolinario Mabini awarding ceremony at the Heroes Hall of the Malacañan Palace on September 29, 2015.

The Philippine Foundation for the Rehabilitation of the Disabled, Inc. (PFRD) launched the Apolinario Mabini Awards in 1974, to give recognition to those who have rendered outstanding services to persons with disabilities.

SUMMARY EXECUTIVE

But more important than all other aspects of our work is ensuring that Christian growth remains at the core of our mission. Our pastors who are blind conducted Bible Studies in schools where children with visual impairment were enrolled and served 700 students nationwide.

The year 2015 also marked another milestone as 205 teens and children who are visually impaired joined the Annual Summer Camp. This is one of the highest attendance that we have on record for this yearly event.

This report brings to light RBI's accomplishments that strongly emphasize the significance of our partnerships with our donors, government agencies, volunteers, individuals and families in helping the country's visually impaired population reach their fullest potential in life.

As long as there are persons with visual impairment and their needs remain unfulfilled, we will uphold our unwavering trust that the Lord will send His provision to continue the delivery of services to many of our blind friends around the Philippines. We will remain faithful to our mission as we look to another 27 years of responding to the call.

*Well done, good and faithful servant!
Matthew 25:23*

*Mr. Randy Weisser
RBI Executive Director
from 1989 to 2015*

Resources for the Blind's Executive Director Mr. Randy Weisser retires after 26 years with RBI. He started with RBI in 1989 as the Acting Director and assumed the directorship in February 1992 after the retirement of RBI Founder Dr. Arthur Lown. With Mr. Weisser at the helm of the RBI ministry, countless persons with visual impairment reaped the benefits of the initiatives he spearheaded. In every step of the way, he made sure that the Word of God was shared to them.

Mr. Weisser emphasized that RBI is not just him, but a team of dedicated ministry workers moving towards the same goal of sharing the Word of God and helping persons with visual impairment.

He asked for the same support accorded to him to be, likewise, given to his successor Mr. Nestor V. Custodio. Mr. Weisser is now with his family in Alaska and will continue working in the Lord's ministry as the Executive Director of the Alaska Village Missions.

*The heart of man plans his way, but the LORD directs his steps. Proverbs

In October 2015, the Board of Trustees of the Resources for the Blind, Inc. officially appointed Mr. Nestor V. Custodio as the new Executive Director.

Mr. Custodio is a devoted family man and a Pastor currently serving as the Chairman of the Board of Elders of the Valley Ministries Christian Community Church International.

He is an alumnus of the University of Santo Tomas with a Bachelor of Science Degree in Commerce major in Accounting. He passed the Accountancy Board Examination in 1981.

At about the same time that RBI founder Dr. Lown started the organization, Mr. Custodio was pursuing a career in the financial services industry. He has held key senior positions in highly reputable international companies such as the Hongkong Shanghai Banking Corporation (HSBC), International Nederlanden Group (ING) Bank and Baring Securities, Philippines Inc.

In 2009, Mr. Custodio answered the Lord's calling to full time church ministry and left the corporate world to become a Pastor. The staff and management team pray for the continued support of all local and international partners as another chapter in the RBI history unfolds.

Dear Friends,

Warmest greetings from the Resources For The Blind!

October of 2015 marked a very important milestone in my life and in the history of RBI, when I was appointed by the Board of Trustees as the new Executive Director, in view of Randy Weisser's retirement. Mr. Weisser had been the organization's Executive Director for the past 26 years, so it will be a challenge for me to continue, and if needed, improve the programs of RBI, as it seeks to fulfill its ministry.

BEGINNING Message

As I prepared for the big move from full time pastoring in the church to assuming the directorship at RBI, I witnessed how everyone in the organization worked together to achieve the mission of implementing programs that will help people with visual impairment reach their fullest potential in life and service to God.

As we look to a new beginning, it is my prayer to have the strength and wisdom to effectively execute RBI's programs that will move the country towards becoming an inclusive society where persons with visual impairment enjoy dignity, human rights and meaningful access to quality education anywhere in the Philippines. I intend to work diligently with our organization's partners and staff to protect the rights of blind persons, serve and improve their situation to become productive and recognized members of the community.

The road ahead is full of challenges but with the Lord's grace and provision, I know that RBI's success will continue in the years to come.

Sincerely yours,

Nestor V. Custodio

*For I am the LORD your God who takes hold of your right hand

EARLY AND

PRESCHOOL INTERVENTION

In human development, the foundation is critical and can spell the difference between meaningful progress or delay in learning. This is the reality for the regular average child, but more so for children who do not have the sight to facilitate gaining knowledge from the environment. So it has become RBI's thrust to include intervention of children with visual impairment at the earliest age possible to minimize or even avoid the expected developmental delays in their cognitive, communication, motor and social skills. Being able to train early both the child and the parents on how to deal with the disability will yield better results in terms of acquiring academic and life skills that will enable the person and everyone around him to live normally.

This is the essence of RBI's early intervention and preschool program for children who are blind and with visual impairment. For this year, we reached our milestone of having 12 babies enrolled in our Parent & Child program. This is the most number of babies that we have as students since the early intervention program was launched.

INCLUSIVE EDUCATION

Education is everyone's right and it is just unfortunate that persons with disabilities (PWDs) are often being deprived of this right by the same institutions which should guarantee it. That is why we continually exert efforts to explore and find the best possible way that we can get children with visual impairment to attend school.

Our strategic move to address this matter has been to train teachers, school administrators and other stakeholders on how to handle children with impaired vision inside regular classes. We also provide devices for the student's special needs as to ensure that the school environment and their classes would be conducive to learning.

In 2015, we were able to train 543 teachers and enroll to schools a total of 3,285 students with visual impairment. Moving on to 2016, we look forward into motivating more schools to open their admission to them. The challenges are great but these only motivate us to persevere in fulfilling our mission to open up opportunities for visually impaired children to have access to quality education.

*Give instruction to a wise man,
and he will be still wiser;
teach a righteous man, and he will increase in learning.
Proverbs 9:9*

EDUCATIONHIGHER

In 2015, RBI received a number of complaints about universities and colleges refusing admission to students with visual impairment. The usual reasons given were: a) the teachers were not ready to handle students with visual impairment and b) they did not have the special tools needed to teach them. This is a serious blatant violation of the Magna Carta for Persons with Disability which provides that PWDs must be given full access to quality education, but many academic institutions are still unaware that such a law exists.

To address the issue, Resources for the Blind reached out to administrators of schools and universities in partnership with the Commission on Higher Education (CHED) and became more assertive in its drive for inclusion of students with visual impairment in higher education.

In 2015, 308 university administrators and faculty attended the orientation workshop for the inclusion of students with visual impairment. This is an improvement on the level of participation that we had in the past two years.

Based on our latest data, we have already given training to 95 universities where a total of 165 college students with visual impairment are enrolled. Our data also showed some encouraging results as we have twenty students who have been given college scholarships.

EYE CARE & PREVENTION

BLINDNESS

*The LORD gives sight to the blind,
the LORD lifts up those who are bowed down,
the LORD loves the righteous.
Psalm 146:8*

While our main mission is to provide services to persons with visual impairment, we also have programs to prevent blindness and assist patients with low vision. Our approach is to establish meaningful linkages with government units to track down those who need eye care services, coordinate with community workers to implement projects and partner with eye care specialists to provide the necessary medical assessment and treatment.

Nationwide trainings and public awareness campaigns in barangays are conducted to effectively disseminate information that would equip the members of the community with knowledge and skills that would help prevent blindness.

Although the raising of funds for eye surgeries has been very challenging, we have been able to continue with the program through the assistance of a major partner, RBI International (US), who has been consistent in their efforts to find donors for children who need surgery. Focus is given to children because of the special urgent attention needed for childhood blindness cases.

At the end of 2015, the United States Agency for International development (USAID) awarded RBI with a grant to launch a project which will help ensure the continuum of care for children with visual impairment. Full implementation of the project commences in January 2016 and will run until 2018.

VISION

Live as children of light.
Ephesians 5:8*

cannot be fully corrected by the use of regular eyeglasses. It is considered a visual impairment, but unlike a person who is totally blind, a person with low vision still has some useful sight left. As such, their needs are different from someone who has no sight at all. What they generally need are some training on mobility and the use of special devices to minimize the difficulties associated with reduced visual ability.

Three years ago, we initiated strategies to enhance RBI's low vision services by partnering with optometry colleges and national associations of optometrists. Today, we have fine-tuned continue our programs which now include low vision training for teachers, parents and other stakeholders.

In 2015, we were able to organize low vision training for 100 optometry students and conducted continuing education courses to 30 practicing optometrists. We also assessed and provided treatment to low vision patients and made low vision devices available for sale or for lending to students with varying degrees of vision loss.

GROWTH

*Instead, speaking the truth in love, we will grow to become in every respect the mature body of Him who is the head, that is, Christ.
Ephesians 4:15*

At RBI, Christian Growth has always been at the heart of its activities and programs. Our work does not stop at planting the seeds of the Christian faith

Growth program has remained an important priority despite the greater challenges of getting it funded compared to our other programs.

Since the beginning, RBI has always promoted the ministry of distributing Scriptures to as many people as we can reach. In our programs' activities, we try to incorporate the sharing of the Word of God to encourage people with visual impairment. From producing the first Tagalog Bible in braille, RBI has gone a long way in advancing the Bible through adoption of the latest technological advancements. Now we can produce Bibles in different Filipino dialects like Cebuano and Hiligaynon and in formats other than Braille, such as large print and digital.

To foster spiritual and social growth among elementary and high school students with visual impairment, we hold the kids and teens camp every summer. Furthermore, our blind pastors continuously hold weekly bible studies in schools where there are students with visual disability. We are extremely gratified that some of these students enroll in Bible Colleges after high school for further training to become ministry workers.

MEDIA ACCESSIBLE

Accessible Media refers to all forms of communication whose content can be effectively conveyed to persons with disability, specifically in RBI's case, those with impaired vision. In the past, it only meant producing printed documents in Braille or recording in cassette tapes. But with modern technology, accessible media now include materials in audio and digital formats which can be read with the use of devices especially made for this purpose. Software products like screen readers complement these devices to provide persons with visual impairment full and easy access to information that they need and want. Nowadays, tablets, laptops, cellular phones and other digital devices are being used by persons with visual disability with ease, and in many cases, more efficiently than sighted people.

To further ensure media accessibility, RBI also maintain partnership with Bookshare, an online digital library of accessible electronic books for readers with print disabilities. It has thousands of downloadable materials including textbooks, magazines, educational books, children's books, literature, newspapers, and bestsellers.

PLACEMENTJOB

*Whatever you do, work at it with all your heart, as working for the Lord, not for human masters,
Colossians 3:23*

Our job placement program seeks to assist adults who are visually impaired in their search for employment. Though we recognize the talents and skills that qualify them to take on the same jobs that sighted persons have, we are cognizant of the fact that they face more challenges in the workplace. Many employers are still very hesitant when it comes to hiring persons with visual impairment and the prospective employer.

Aside from the technical and soft skills trainings we conduct for prospective job applicants, we likewise give them guidance and encouragement on matters related to their social, spiritual and emotional well-being.

On the other hand, we continue to communicate with companies and make them aware during our trainings and orientations that there are really no big adjustments that they have to do when hiring people with visual impairment. It is a great fulfillment to see companies opening their doors to our clients and we look forward to seeing more blind-friendly employers in the future.

*For we live by faith, not by sight.
2 Corinthians 5:7*

Living a productive and meaningful life is possible even after losing one's vision. We have been a witness to many success stories of people with visual impairment who overcame their discouragement and now live productive and meaningful lives. When a person loses his sight, oftentimes he only needs to adopt new ways of doing things to achieve the same goals. This is where our Rehabilitation Program comes in.

In 2015, our counseling, mobility training, lessons on using technology, Braille reading and writing and prayer sessions worked in synergy to help 213 persons who became blind only recently re-assess their situation in life and discover new ways of doing things.

BUILDINGSUPPORT Proverbs 23:23 In almost all instances, parents of babies who were born blind are at a loss and do not know where to turn to for guidance on how to PARENTS' raise their child and address the baby's special needs. This is true for those who are in the provinces and in the remote areas. To reach and assist them, we conduct workshops in different areas of the especially Philippines to equip the parents with the knowledge and skills to properly raise their children with visual impairment. We work in close coordination with the support group Parent Advocates of Children with Visual Impairment (PAVIC). Part of the activities is to introduce other parents to share how they deal with the challenges and successfully rise above them. Their success stories give hope and encourage new parents of children with impaired vision to build a more positive outlook towards their child's disability and their responsibility to them.

*Open your mouth, judge righteously, defend the rights of the poor and needy.
Proverbs 31:9*

RBI strongly advocates the vision of the United Nations Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disability (UNCRPD) which is to promote, defend and reinforce the human rights of all persons with disabilities. To achieve this goal, we endeavour to remove the obstacles faced by persons with visual impairment in the areas of education, health care, employment and transportation. We believe that most hindrances faced by persons who with visual impairment are caused, not by the actual limitations of blindness, but by other people's typical view that blind people are unable to do many things.

In the area of employment, we hold seminars that specifically target front line staff and decision makers in the workplace. We reach out to these employers to encourage them to contribute in improving the welfare of persons with disabilities. The attendees to our trainings comprise of employers, public school administrators, human resource personnel, hotel/airlines/shipping lines staff, banking staff, and administrative staff at the House of Representatives and other government offices.
